

2018 Flathead Grows! Workshop Schedule

Planning Out Your Garden

Winter is a great time to start your garden planning. In this two-hour workshop, Robin Kelson of the Good Seed Co. will go over the steps to take now and through the winter for easily moving into and planting your Montana garden later in the year. Spring is just around the corner!

Saturday, February 3, 10-12pm
ImagineIF Kalispell Meeting Room

Time to Start your Seeds

Growing your own seed starts indoors can be easy and inexpensive. Get the basics for successfully growing long-season vegetables like tomatoes, peppers, broccoli, cauliflower and onions from seed in this hands-on workshop led by Robin Kelson of the Good Seed Co. Use those indoor seed starts on your window sill to get the most from our short Montana summers.

Early Spring Seed Starts

Even though the snow may just be melting, your Montana garden is ready for planting! Robin Kelson of the Good Seed Co. will help get you started. We'll go over which seed varieties can be planted outdoors now and how. It's also time to "pot up" long-season vegetable seeds you started in March. Bring your starts and we'll transplant them together into larger pots for strong root growth before they go into the garden.

Saturday, April 28, 9-11am
Columbia Falls Junior High Garden

Into the Garden we go!

With our last frost date near or behind us, it's time to transplant long-season vegetable starts into the garden. In this hands on workshop led by Robin Kelson of the Good Seed Co. you will learn more about making your garden successful this summer and fall by getting it started right.

Saturday, June 2, 9-11am
Columbia Falls Junior High Garden

All about Compost

Home-made compost is fuel and food for your garden. In this hands-on workshop led by Robin Kelson of the Good Seed Co., we'll walk you through the steps for easy and successful composting, and why it is so valuable and empowering to include among your garden skills.

Saturday, August 4, 9-11am
Columbia Falls Junior High Garden

Harvesting your Seeds

In this hands-on workshop with Robin Kelson of the Good Seed Co. you'll learn all the steps for successfully harvesting seeds from the garden, and saving them to plant next year! We'll harvest from the garden together and clean seeds for the Seed Library and for you to take home.
