Tip: use your notebook and pen to record your interview!

"The Great Thanksgiving Listen encourages young people—and people of all ages—to create an oral history of our times by recording an interview with an elder, mentor, friend, or someone they admire."

Think of an adult in your life. Do you know what their favorite song was when they were your age? Or what teacher had the greatest impact on them? Or the most exciting place they've ever traveled? Take some time this fall to interview a grown-up you know. Record what you discover through writing, audio, or film.

If you're over the age of 13, you can submit your recordings to StoryCorps to be included in the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress. If you're not 13 yet, you can still share your stories online (with adult permission) using the hashtag #TheGreatListen.
